Subject: Updated information about bank account creation

Hi Anne,

I hope this email finds you well. My name is Theodora Skeadas, and I registered my campaign account for Cambridge City Council via the 101 form yesterday. I called this afternoon, and I spoke with a fellow named Jason. He told me to send you this email.

The reason for my email is simply to let you know that while I faxed over my CPF 101 form yesterday to register my account for Cambridge City Council, I won't be able to create the bank account until January 16.

I am in NY with my family for the next week, and then I will be traveling abroad through January 15. This morning, I tried to open a campaign account at Bank of America, and then TD Bank, but both banks were unable to open the account, because I would be campaigning in Massachusetts. I just wanted to give you a heads up, so that you're not surprised that there is no bank yet tied to my OCPF account.

Happy holidays!

Cheers,
Theo
